

The People's Republic of China was founded on October 1, 1949, 28 years after the creation of the Communist Party of China. The date marks a turning point in Chinese history – the country, after a century of tribulations and humiliation, finally achieved independence and found a sense of dignity. Since then, it has embarked on a path of sustained and robust growth. China is now the world's second largest economy and member of numerous major international organizations. The dream of rejuvenating China is coming true.