

Ready to Run

A Fuxing bullet train parks at the railway station in Shijiazhuang City, north China's Hebei Province, on August 21.

As China's new-generation bullet train, the Fuxing has been put into operation on the lines linking Beijing, Tianjin and some cities of Hebei Province on August 21 to raise the speed of inter-city passenger trains and offer better services.